

Fermiamo insieme la febbre del Pianeta Un Piano Mondiale per l'Ambiente

Un ruolo attivo dell'Unione Europea

The Earth is in danger

The division of the world into sovereign national States prevents the efficient resolution of global issues, among which climate change resulting from human activities. Overcoming such division starting with Europe, through the creation of the European Federation, is an essential step that will allow to implement immediate, clear-cut and consistent actions for the global reduction of CO2 emissions in the atmosphere, to prevent the rise of the average temperature that will otherwise increase relentlessly for all citizens of the Earth and for future generations.

Enough with the States' inertia and selfishness!

Until now, no significant measure, policy or provision has been adopted at global level to put an end to a situation that is becoming irreversible. The agreement reached at the COP 21 in Paris is entirely insufficient to reduce CO2 emissions. because this work has been given to business.

Let us stop the Earth fever

By reducing the CO2 emissions from the UN Climate Change Conference that will be held in Marrakech, Marocco in November 2016, entrusting climate stabilisation to international agencies suited to the global character of the climate change challenge, that no state in the world can face unilaterally.

The challenge must be faced jointly

The most polluting countries (United States, European Union, China, India, Russia, Brazil, Mexico, Japan, South Africa) must join efforts to face the climate change challenge, with a world important political act to be implemented Marrakech or in the months immediately following.

A Global Environmental Plan

Entailing binding commitments by the States and the creation of a World Environmental Organisation invested with real powers and managed by an independent High Authority, relying on sufficient financial resources. This World Organisation will be the instrument required to manage jointly global environmental issues, to encourage developing countries to share the reduction of carbon (CO2) emissions and urge developed countries to help them, providing them with significant financial and technological support. The organisation model being proposed is that of the European Coal and Steel Community (ECSC) in the European unification process.

A global carbon tax

The financial means must result from automatic revenues through the implementation of a global carbon tax, devised as an addition to the national excise duties on fossil fuel consumption, applied in all the aforesaid countries. The European Union has the capacity and will to take up a leadership role in the ecological conversion of the world economy, and will have to prove it by implementing without delay the European carbon tax in the Eurozone countries, and by proposing at the Marrakech Conference the creation of the World Environmental Organisation, starting with the countries that are currently available.

As European citizen, we request:

- A initiating and leading role for the European Union in the ecological conversion of the economy;
- The achievement of the Federal Union of Europe, with the creation of a European democratic government, capable of speaking with one voice, to make it possible for the European Union to fulfil this role efficiently.
